Announcement Regarding Acquisition of DENTAL Holding

We are pleased to announce that funds served by Advantage Partners (“AP Funds”) entered into a stock purchase agreement with Noritsu Koki Co., Ltd. (“Noritsu Koki”, or “the Company”) to acquire all shares of DENTAL Holding Corp. (“Dental Holding”) owned by Noritsu Koki.

Dental Holding is a distributor of dental materials and supplies and provides related services through its subsidiary, FEED Corporation (“Feed”). Feed launched the first mail-order catalog for dental clinics in Japan in 1987 and has been contributing to the development of dental and oral medicine as an innovator in the dental distribution industry ever since. Mainly through its mail-order site FEED Dental, Feed has engaged in efforts to provide better products rapidly and at a low cost, thereby enhancing convenience for dental offices and other clients.

AP Funds believes that Dental Holding has established a valuable operating foundation to date and are excited to work with the Company’s management team and employees to accelerate its further growth.
